

Brazilian E-commerce Analytics Report

Generated on 2025-03-24

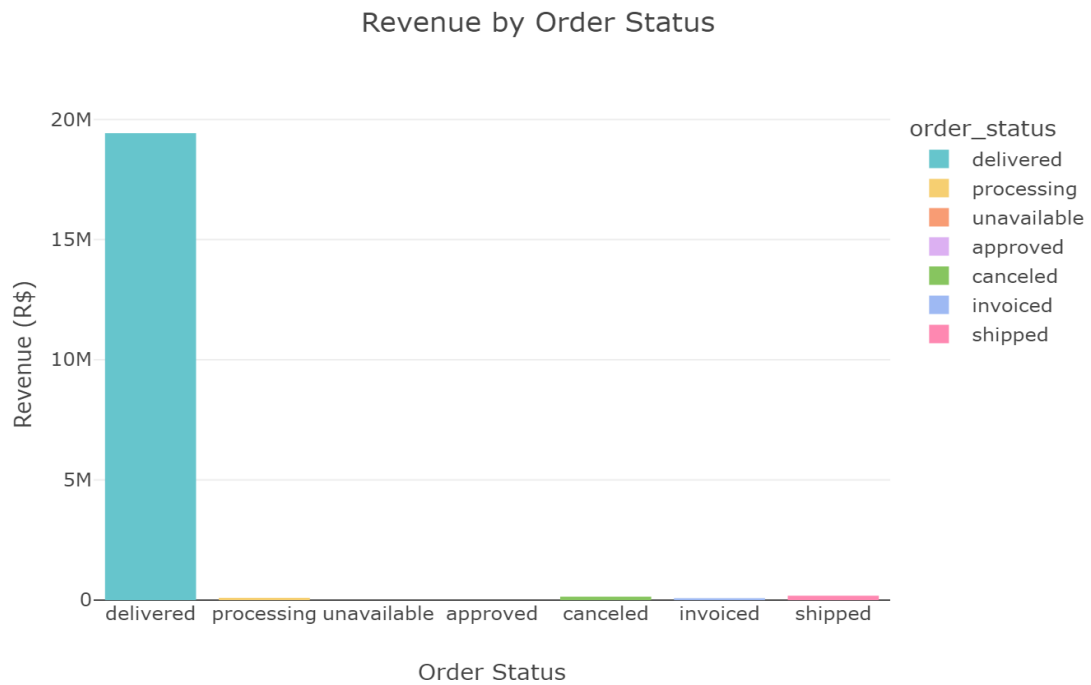

Executive Summary

The Brazilian e-commerce platform demonstrates strong revenue growth and high order fulfillment rates. Customer segmentation reveals that a small percentage of high-value customers drive a disproportionate share of revenue. Seller distribution shows concentration in major urban centers, with São Paulo dominating the market. Product category performance varies significantly, indicating opportunities for targeted strategies. Geographic performance suggests potential for regional expansion initiatives.

Orders by Status

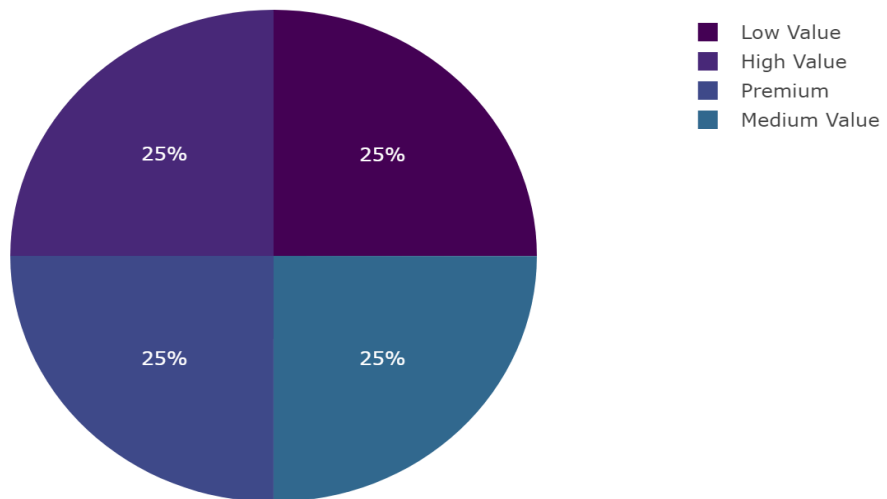

Revenue by Order Status

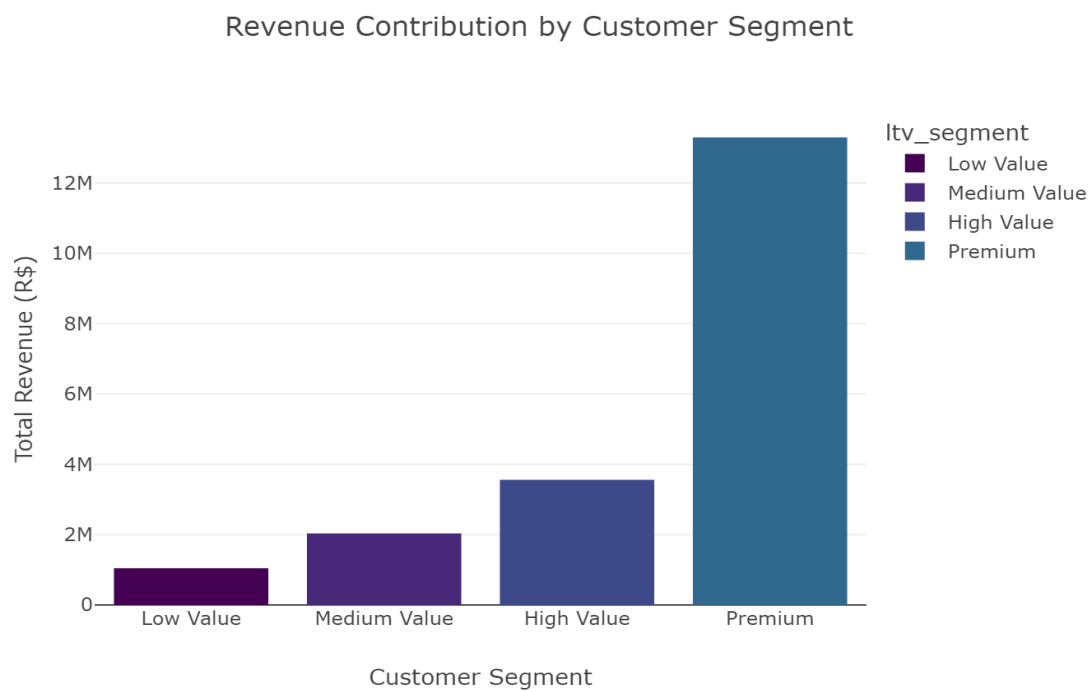

Customer Segmentation

Customer Segmentation by Lifetime Value

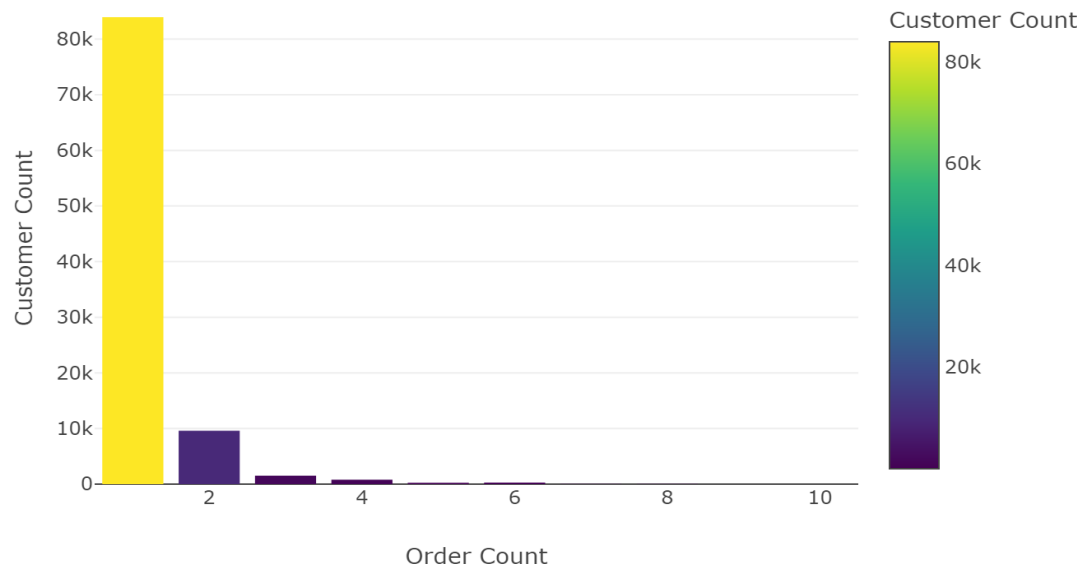

Revenue by Customer Segment

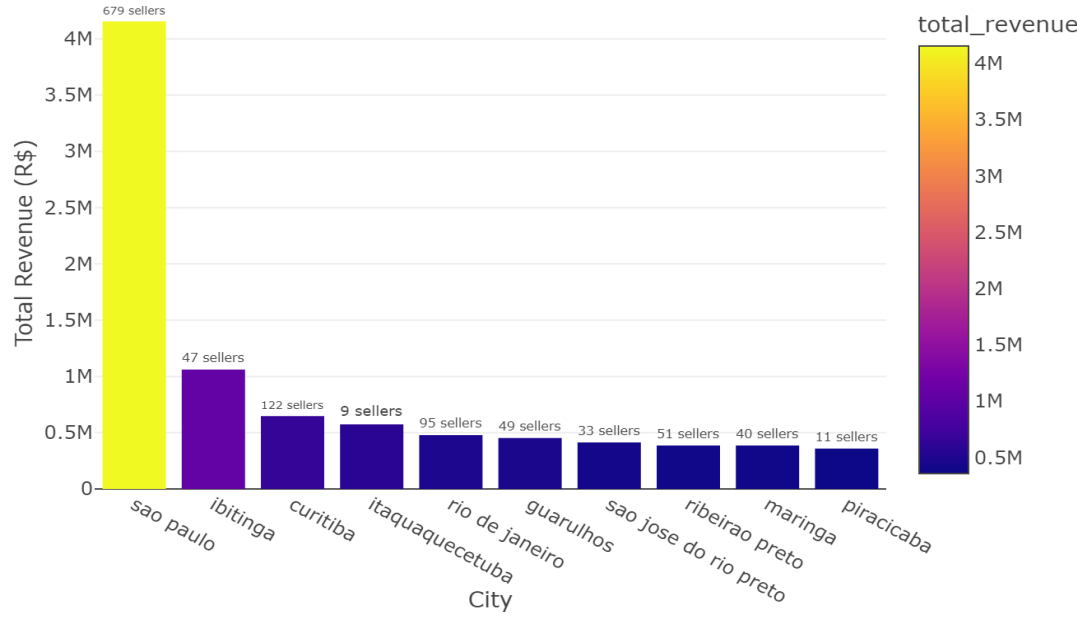

Order Frequency Analysis

Customers by Order Frequency

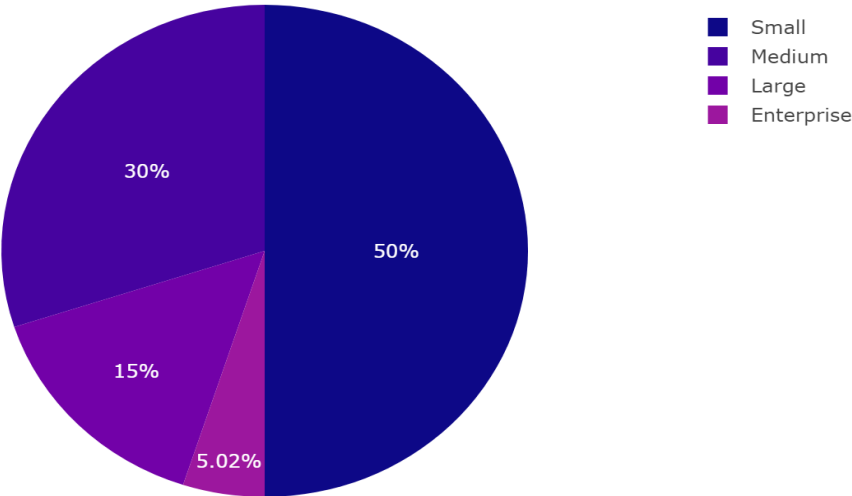

Top Cities by Revenue

Top 10 Cities by Total Revenue

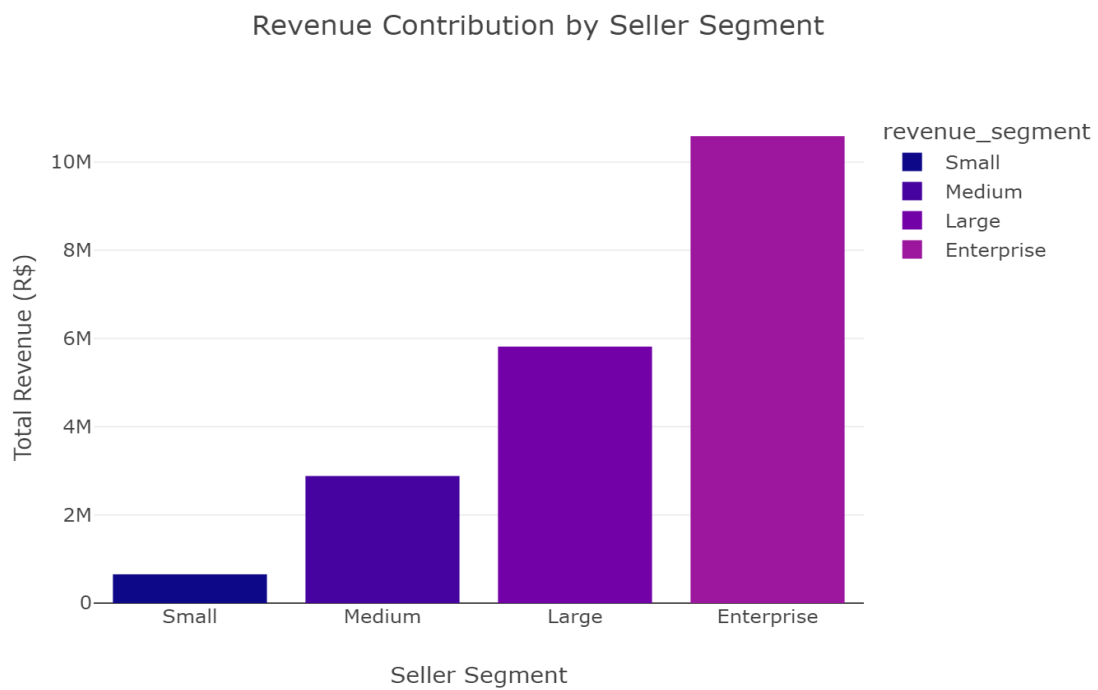

Seller Segmentation

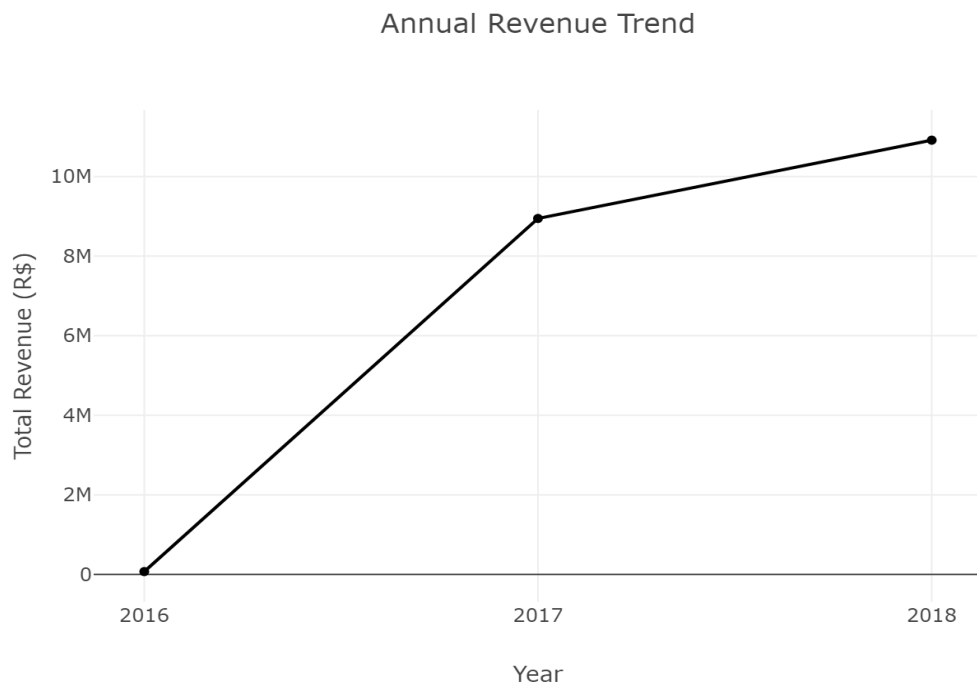

Seller Segmentation by Revenue

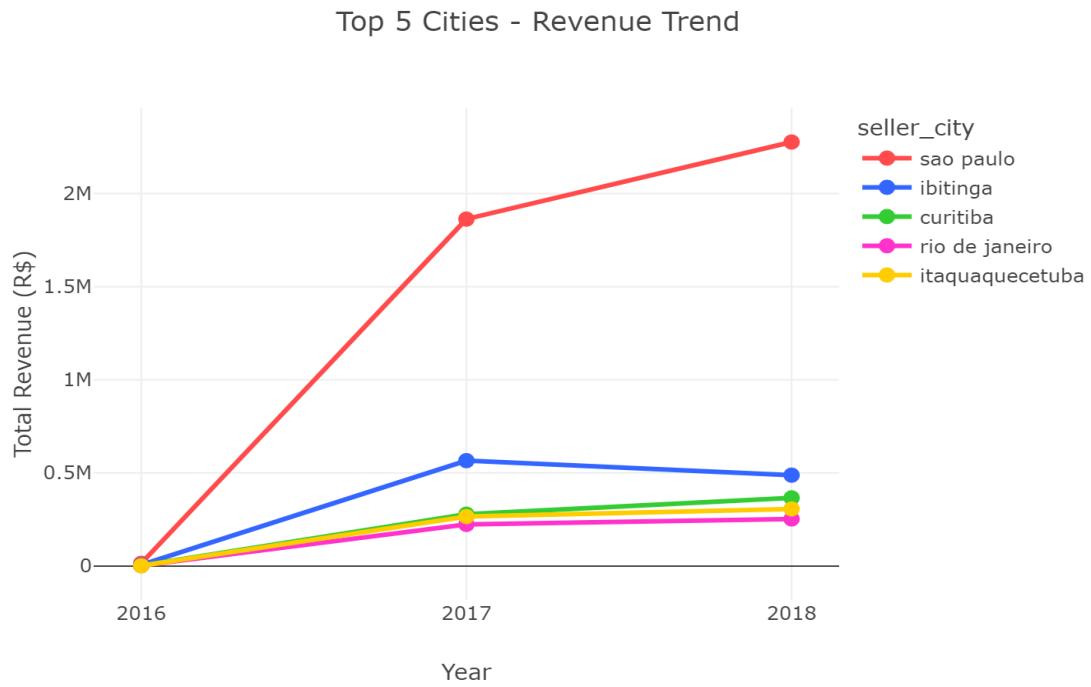

Revenue by Seller Segment

Annual Revenue Trend

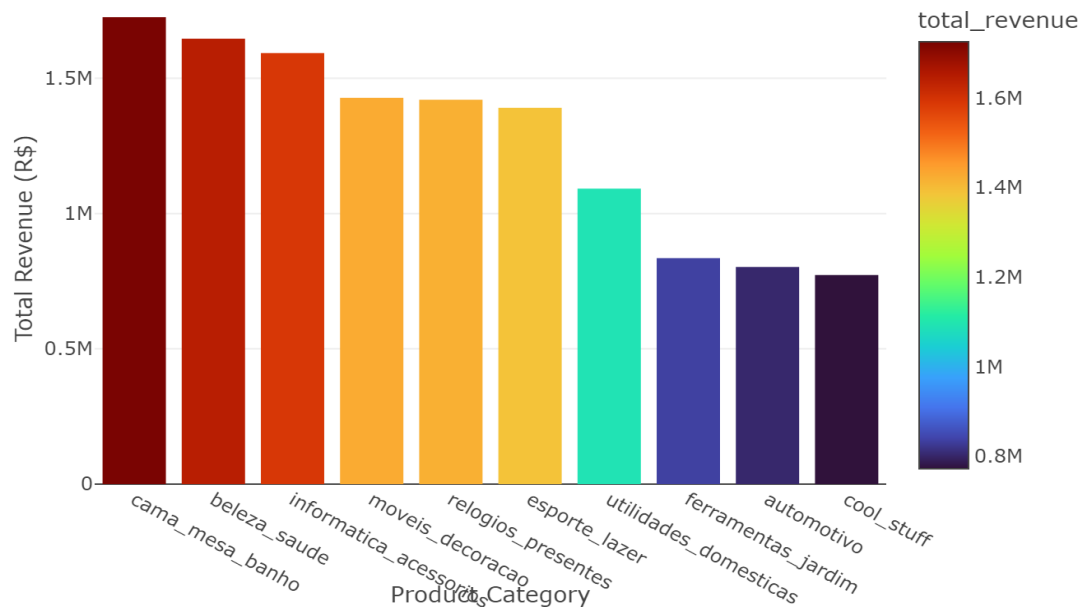

City Performance by Year

Top Categories by Revenue

Top 10 Categories by Total Revenue

Category Trends Over Time

Top 5 Categories - Revenue Trend

